CITY FOR SALE?

THE COMMODIFICATION OF EDINBURGH'S PUBLIC SPACES

Facilitated by Journalist, Broadcaster and Presenter,
Stephen Jardine
(BBC Scotland's Debate Night)

One of the defining issues currently in front of the City of Edinburgh is how we value our public places. Should our parks and gardens be an oasis of green-ness and tranquility, or should they be the city's performance hubs, the Go-To places for happening events and Festival activities? Should civic spaces be open for the unrestricted access of City dwellers and City visitors alike; or should they be a gated venue accessible only to ticket holders and promoters?
